New additive designed to improve feed and nitrogen use

»A new supplement has been launched with the aim of improving nitrogen and feed efficiencies.

Said to combine the benefits of molasses and regulated release proteins with added methionine in the form of MetaSmart from Adisseo, ReguSmart 27 from ED&F Man comes as a combined molasses and methionine supplement.

The additive is a high dry matter liquid feed with 53% sugars, 27% crude protein with the optimal inclusion of digestible methionine with 2.5% of MetaSmart.

It is formulated to be fed at 1.4kg/day and makers say has been designed to help drive production from home grown forages.
